

Conscious Inclusion Workshop

A 3-4 HOUR COURSE WITH A FRESH, ENGAGING APPROACH TO DIVERSITY

At Inclusivity, we know that traditional diversity and inclusion training approaches don't work and that they often activate biases to create resentment and disengagement.

In what has become Inclusivity's trademark style, we lead this introductory course with a high energy and uniting approach that encourages participation and engagement from even the most skeptical participant.

On average, most participants rate this training at a 4.5 on a 5.0 scale for overall effectiveness. Here are just some of the commitments that participants have made after attending this training:

- Engage with other departments to open dialogue and trust between us
- Collaborate more with team members company-wide
- Get to know people and their experiences—make an active effort to continue being inclusive
- Make a conscious effort to make others feel safe and welcome
